The Chamber of Commerce Dinner of the season will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There he gained much experience in city planning and zoning. Mr. Donald's talk will be illustrated with pictures showing conditions in other cities.

ARGENTINA GETS ONLY REGRETS

Assembly Merely Say They are Sorry She is Quitting League—Her Motion Referred to Committee Reporting Next Year—Canadian Proposal to Eliminate Article X Probably be Reported on in 1921.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Geneva, Dec. 6.—The assembly of the league of nations today turned a cold shoulder to Argentina and made no outward efforts to retain the South American republic in the league of nations. A note was addressed to the Argentine delegation in behalf of the assembly by President Paul Hymans, expressing regret over Argentina's departure, but the assembly failed to make any attempt to meet Argentina's demands.

Honorio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, explained that Argentina was withdrawing from the league under article twenty-six of the covenant. The big developments of the day were: 1—Argentina's proposal for immediate admission of all recognized nations referred to a committee which will not report until 1921. 2—The Canadian amendment eliminating article ten from the covenant referred to a committee which will report next year. 3—Assembly adopted a committee report making the council the supreme power in the league.

The Argentine delegation was absent from both the assembly meeting and the meeting of the general committee. Dr. Pueyrredon, Argentina's foreign minister, said he had received a message of congratulation from the American industrial company of Chicago.

General, Dec. 6.—Argentina's note containing the demands which must be met to keep her in the league of nations was read by President Paul Hymans, of the assembly, in today's open assembly session and was received in silence.

President Hymans made no comment further than to express regret over the action taken by the South American republic.

The Argentine delegation, headed by Honorio Pueyrredon, foreign minister of Argentina, was absent. Before the assembly opened Dr. Pueyrredon made the following statement to the International News Service: Ready to Leave, Says Pueyrredon.

"The Argentine delegation will not attend today's session. We consider that we have finished and we are ready to depart for Paris. The people of Argentina will support our decision to withdraw from further participation in the affairs of the league of nations."

Argentina's note had been delivered on Sunday after Dr. Pueyrredon on Saturday had consented to hold it up for a short time.

Immediately after the reading of Argentina's note President Hymans brought up the motion which the Argentine delegation had introduced before its withdrawal last week, providing for the immediate admission of all recognized states into the league of nations. It was referred to a committee which will not report until next year.

President Hymans took this action without putting it to a vote.

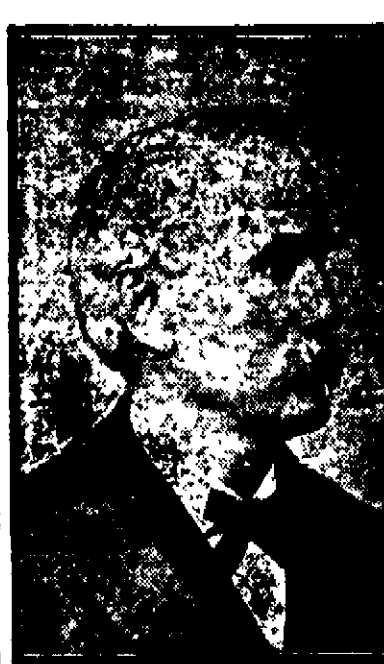

Doherty's Amendment Goes Over.
The general committee of the assembly recommended that the Canadian amendment eliminating article ten from the league of nations be referred to a committee to report in 1921. This amendment was introduced on Saturday by C. J. Doherty, Canadian minister of justice.

Following a hectic week end of conferences over the critical situation created by the defection of Argentina, the general committee of the assembly held a long meeting this morning before the plenary session of the assembly opened, to discuss the manner in which to present Argentina's note to the delegates of the forty other nations.

It was understood that former Premier Viviani of France was requested to draw up an answer to Argentina's representations. But there was considerable doubt as to whether he would accept.

Understanding Among French.
M. Viviani is angry over developments relating to Argentina and was not in a very conciliatory mood when the assembly met. The French statesman's wrath was aroused by the fact that Premier Leynares of France had joined Britain in a note to the league opposing the immediate entrance into the league of Argentina. He had been supporting the immediate entrance of Argentina in the belief that it represented the attitude of his government. It was to Paris demanding that in the future Paris be thoroughly informed of the French government's policy so he could act accordingly. M. Viviani was so incensed over the resolution by the French foreign office of his efforts in behalf of Argentina's admission into the league that he even threatened to resign from the French cabinet.

SAMUEL DILL DEAD AT HOME

SAMUEL DILL

Ex-Sheriff Samuel Dill died this morning at his home, 40 Liberty St. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

According to family tradition the Dills were originally Norsemen, going from Norway to Germany to escape oppressions thence emigrating to the north of Ireland about the time of the siege of Derry. They were valiant adherents of the cause of William of Orange, in the religious wars of that period, and held high rank in the army, the name being changed from Dill to Dill. About 1730 Caleb Dill came to America and located on the banks of the Otterkill in the town of Hamptonburgh, Orange county, and it was from him that the Dills descended. Former Sheriff Dill was born in Shawangunk township on December 25, 1835, the youngest son of Samuel and Catherine Creighton Dill. Until nineteen years of age he remained on the farm attending the common school and the academy at Walkkill. He then began learning the trade of harnessmaker under his brother-in-law, John H. Bruyn, with whom he served an apprenticeship of four and a half years. For several years he worked as a journeyman, when he bought the business of his brother-in-law and established himself at Walkkill, continuing in this way until November, 1888, when he was elected sheriff of Ulster county. In the meantime he had taken an active part in politics, serving as supervisor of his town in 1874-5. He was also elected town clerk for a number of years. When he ran for the office of sheriff out of the 677 votes cast in his town he received 537. On January 6, 1884, Mr. Dill married Miss Sarah J. Roosa, who died four weeks after the birth of their only son, Samuel. Mr. Dill was again married June 10, 1874, taking for his wife Susie A. Jordan, daughter of Lucius Crosby and Susan T. Loomy Jordan of the town of Walkkill, Orange county. In 1893, Mr. Dill took up his permanent residence in this city building a home on Albany avenue where he resided for the balance of his years. He was a member of the Masonic Order and the Knights of Pythias. Mr. Dill was a Democrat and widely known.

SMITH DIVORCE ACTION.

Husband and Others Have First Class Evidence.

Testimony in the divorce action brought by Joseph Smith of Claryville against his wife, was taken Saturday before Justice Hasbrouck in special term. According to the testimony of Smith and several witnesses Mrs. Smith on various occasions was seen in company with other men than her husband. On the evening of October 2 of this year Smith and a neighbor followed Mrs. Smith to the house of a neighbor and waited outside the house until the family had retired, leaving Mrs. Smith and a man alone in the kitchen. Through the window Mr. Smith and his companion saw Mrs. Smith and the man embrace each other and then the light was extinguished. The door was then broken open and the two men entered the room where Mrs. Smith and the man were. John R. DeVasy appeared for Mr. Smith.

A Correction.
The item in Saturday's Freeman announcing the marriage of Lawrence Luerzel and Miss Bonnie Van Rensselaer of Saugerties was false in every particular. The announcement was received in a letter to this paper signed "Lawrence Luerzel," with a request to print. This was one of the rare occasions when The Freeman, unable to verify, and anxious to oblige, took a chance. Such was the case of Mr. Luerzel's name. Make necessary the precaution was taken to protect against his fellows.

SCHERMERHORN'S PLACE RAIDED

By Police Saturday Night, Who Arrest Him On Charge of Allowing Gambling in Back Room—Police Say About Twenty-Five Were Playing Poker At Time—Hearing Later.

Saturday night about 10.45 o'clock Policemen Shadler and Simpson raided the cigar store of Nicholas Schermernhorn at No. 610 1/2 Broadway, and placed Mr. Schermernhorn under arrest on a charge of allowing gambling in the back room of his place of business.

A hearing was to be held in the case this afternoon before Judge Schirlick in police court. Chris J. Flanagan appears for Mr. Schermernhorn.

According to the police when they raided the place they found a poker game in progress with about twenty-five men present. As the police burst into the rear room there was a wild scramble for the rear exit, but some of the players as they made their escape grabbed for the money that lay on the table, and the police were only able to seize the cards and about $10 in change. They say there was considerably more than that in sight when they entered.

How the men in the place managed to make good their escape caused surprise to the police for they had to scale a fence about ten feet in height, and it was as dark as pitch in the back yard. It is understood that the police have the names of those playing that night.

SEAL SALE GETS GOOD START

In spite of unfavorable weather, the sale of the tuberculosis Christmas Seals for this year is making excellent progress, as being carried on by the women of the Federation of Women's Clubs and other women's organizations in the city. What with the keeping up of the throat and chest clinics and the maintaining of the much needed tuberculosis nurses, every possible cent will be decided that can be raised by this seal sale, to go toward the proposed addition to the present hospital, tentative plans for which are being prepared by the superintendent, Dr. A. C. Gates. The sacrificing of a few dollars or cents, even, on the part of all of us, will go far to aid in our fight against this most insidious disease which is no respecter of rank or means or social distinction, but enters with deadly step into the homes of poverty. The ones who have means may put up a better fight, so that the needy must have the help of all in order to try and rid our land of this scourge. Therefore buy just as many seals as you possibly can.

SIGH SIGNS AS HE PAYS FINE

Steve Sigh, a deckhand on the steamer Poughkeepsie, heaved a regretful sigh as he kissed a ten dollar bill goodbye in police court this morning. He was arrested Sunday afternoon on Hasbrouck avenue, near the Strand, so drunk that he was unable to care for himself. Officer Reardon made the arrest. This morning in police court Steve confessed that it was his fourth time to face the bar of justice. He said he was married and had a wife and two children in Russian-Poland, but had not seen them in about ten years. He said he did not contribute to their support. Judge Schirlick imposed the fine stated, and informed Steve that the next time would mean jail.

Harry Lucas was arrested Sunday afternoon by Officer Martin on a charge of disorderly conduct, and paid a fine of $5. While Officer Martin was patrolling his beat that afternoon a boy by the name of Doyle approached him and asked him to come to his house, where there were three young men creating a disturbance. Officer Martin did so and ordered the three out doors. They left but when he warned them to disperse and go home, Lucas refused, and Officer Martin placed him under arrest. This morning Judge Schirlick warned Lucas to remain away from the Doyle domicile at No. 22 East Strand, and not to annoy Mr. Doyle or members of his family. Harry promised to do so.

CONGRESS GETS HUGE ESTIMATES

Officials Say Government Will Need Over Five Billion Dollars For Present Year But Republicans Congress is Ready To Cut Figures Heavily.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Dec. 6.—The vast sum of $4,653,856,759.36 is necessary to run the government for the next fiscal year, from June 30, 1921, to June 30, 1922, according to the annual estimates submitted to congress at the opening today by Secretary of the Treasury Houston.

These figures, taking in all departments, represent an increase of $36,415,275.68 over what was actually appropriated to run the government for the present year ending June 30, 1921. The same officials estimated that the government's needs for the present year will reach the enormous sum of $5,064,359,793.68.

The congressional pruning shears have again been sharpened for the estimates now submitted and it is considered certain that the figures will be heavily cut.

Republican leaders are advising that appropriations be made only for the bare running expenses of the various departments and government bureaus, leaving to the new administration freedom of action in making recommendations for additional appropriations to carry on specific works of the government.

The heaviest demands for increased appropriations come from the military establishment. The war department asks $699,275,502.92. It asked last year $995,351,302.20, and was given by congress $398,700,577.70. The navy department asks this year $658,522,231.47. The appropriation last year for the navy was $421,984,184.

Agitation has been started already in congress for reduction of the military establishment's total appropriations at least 50 percent under last year's appropriation. Secretaries Baker and Daniels must undergo severe questioning before the house committees this winter and must fight to secure anything like the huge appropriations they are asking.

Estimates submitted by the various government departments for the next fiscal year compared with appropriations made for the present fiscal year are:

CONGRESS BEGINS BIG SESSION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—Congress was formally called to order at 12 noon today, with President-Elect Harding present in the senate chamber.

Chaplains of both houses opened the congress with a prayer for guidance and success of the legislative bodies in the tasks before them.

The galleries of both houses were jammed with spectators. Many members of the house crowded on the senate floor to greet President-Elect Harding.

The speaker of the house appointed Representatives Fordney and Champ Clark as members of the committee to notify President Wilson that the house was in session and ready to receive any communication he might have to make.

The galleries were jammed long before Vice-President Marshall's gavel fell. Every seat was taken. Women in their best bib and tucker predominated. Here and there an army uniform gave a splash of color to the men's gallery.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, formerly Miss Alice Roosevelt, was an early arrival. She occupied a front seat in the members gallery.

BERTHA BRAZEE DIES OF BURNS

Was Heating Soup in Her Room at Hotel Eichler Sunday Afternoon When Her Clothing Caught Fire—Removed to Hospital, Where She Died That Evening.

Miss Bertha Brazee, a chambermaid at the Hotel Eichler, died at the Kingston City Hospital at 7 o'clock Sunday evening as the result of burns sustained that afternoon while heating some soup in her room on the third floor of the hotel, when, in some manner, her clothing caught fire.

From what could be learned by Fire Chief Chipp, who made an investigation, she was using "kerosene heat" to warm some soup in her room, when the clothing became ignited from the flame, and she rushed from the room, and she rushed to the hall. Her cries were heard by Henry Henna, a porter at Freeman's Hotel, opposite, and he rushed over to the Eichler and met her, a mass of flames. He ran into an adjoining bedroom and seized a blanket and threw it around her in an effort to smother the flames. Before the fire could be extinguished she had been burned on her whole body. The police were notified and removed her to the hospital, where everything possible was done to save her life.

In the excitement that followed an alarm of fire was turned in from Fire 41, in which the fire department responded. They found that the bed clothing in her room had also become ignited, but the damage was slight.

Miss Brazee, who, before taking up her duties at the Eichler Hotel, had been employed at Freeman's Hotel on the Strand, was 34 years old and resided at No. 12 DeWitt street. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker N. D. J. Murphy and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

HOBBO HOLDS UP BOY; TAKES COAT

One of the most daring hold ups in some time occurred about 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning on Chestnut street when a hobo grasped Claude Elmendorf, about 12 years old, who was helping his father deliver milk, and took the boy's new raincoat away from him and made his escape.

Mr. Elmendorf is employed on one of the delivery wagons of the Kingston Dairy on Downs street. The boy was helping his father deliver milk to the customer, and was carrying several bottles of milk in a container when the hobo leaped out from behind a tree and jerked the raincoat away from him and disappeared in the darkness. The police were notified but the hobo had made a good escape. The raincoat was practically a new one.

Boys on Henna Conference.
Sunday night was young people's night at the Rondout Presbyterian Church when the five young men who represented the church at the big boys' conference held in Ithaca the first of the month delivered short addresses on the work at the conference. Those who spoke were Fred Meyer, Iver Monroe, John Connolly, Tom Rowland and Eric Brown. And all five gave very interesting and detailed reports of the conference.

Satisfied Customers.
Hundreds of patrons who have visited Larkin's lower Broadway shoe store during the street sale, have come away convinced that they had obtained real bargains. Some of the work is selling at half what it was marked three months ago. The sale will continue until Saturday. The "hot" is in The Freeman and the details.

In connection with the excellent lectures given by Mrs. Chapman at the Desires of the American have been stated that one of the chief speakers at the 15th World Fair service was Major Frank B. Wheeler.

IRISH TRUCE TALK GROWS STRONGER

Hen-Gordon Seems To Be Lloyd-George's Medium—Sinn Fein,
Now Led By Pricot, Want Settlement Made Through "Irish Parliament."

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Dec. 6.—Indications of an Irish truce grew stronger today.
Intimate friends of Arthur Henderson, M. P., head of the labor commission which has been in Dublin investigating reprisals, said today that he will return to London tomorrow, "probably bringing information of the utmost value for Premier Lloyd-George."

Political adherents of Mr. Henderson were optimistic over his efforts in behalf of a truce in Ireland. They said he had consulted the leaders of all Irish factions and had made appreciable progress towards peace.

The morning newspapers generally gave a favorable tone to their Irish truce stories with the exception of the Morning Post. This newspaper referred to the "Sinn Fein white flag" and advocated the repeal of the 1914 act, placating Ireland.

The Morning Post advises that no definite steps be taken towards peace until law and order are established in Ireland.

According to Dublin advice the Sinn Fein is considering peace proposals but insists upon organized action instead of individual action.
One dispatch said that the Sinn Fein divisional council had decided that anyone discussing peace terms or a general settlement, unless directly authorized by Dail Eireann (Sinn Fein Parliament) "would be guilty of treachery and the results would be repudiated."

Leaders of the movement for "peace before Xmas," say that progress toward peace has been assisted by the consistent declarations of the Rev. Father O'Flannin, acting president of the Sinn Fein in the absence of Arthur Griffith, who is in prison. The acting president is reported to have sent a message direct to the premier, saying that Ireland was in a receptive mood for immediate peace proposals.

with the authority of the Public Service Commission of the State.

return on its investment.

vestors in every community where the Company has operated, no matter how small.

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Co. now controls and operates the Kingston Gas &

GARDEN NOTES.

Recipe for Food Which Birds Like in Cold Weather.

How many of us in the winter give a thought to the hungry little birds who still remain with us in the north instead of winging their way southward?

When it is cold and the ground is covered with snow it is very hard for them to find food. They are very fond of ham-fat, but best of all some humane and kindly bird friend has found a recipe for particularly appetizing winter food for them. It requires very little trouble and practically no expense. Take a piece of suet and melt it. Into this put hemp seeds, sunflower seeds, stale crumbs of cake or bread, or little pieces of old nutmeats. Pour it into a paste-board box or round paper cup and when it is cool, peel off the box and wind wire securely around the mould of bird food. Hang it on a tree or under the eaves and anyone will be amply repaid for the trouble by seeing the delight of the birds. The little feathered friends by their cheer and brightness add so much to the pleasure of our gardens in summer we ought to be glad to show our appreciation of it in this simple way. At least let us give them a Merry Christmas dinner.

MRS. FREDERICK E. W. DARROW, Committee from Ulster Garden Club.

Kingston Scores 300. Rochester with a score of 631 leads the towns and cities of the state in the number and efficiency of the measures they have taken to control venereal diseases. Kingston scored 289, Newburgh 138 and Poughkeepsie 575. These ratings are disclosed in a recent survey made by the U. S. Public Health Service of the 444 largest cities of the country.

AT THE THEATERS.

New Vaudeville—"Partners of the Night" at Keene's.

Those who want variety will find an excellent entertainment at the Kingston Opera House tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday. New vaudeville starts today, headed by the miniature musical comedy "Marry Me." It's a snappy fifteen minutes of singing, dancing and comedy. Jack and Dolly Corney, two stars of the musical revue of the Palace Theater do a dance that has made a hit wherever they have appeared. The play is one of the first selected releases and is starred in by the popular Earle Williams, entitled the "Romance Promoters."

Leroy Scott's famous novel, "Partners of the Night," will be shown at Keene's tonight. Tomorrow, War Miles Miller in "A Cumberland Romance." Carmel Myers in "The Gilded Dream," will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight. Also programmed, Joe Ryan and Jean Paige in "Hidden Dangers." Tomorrow Madeline Travers in "The Spirit of Good."

MORAN BUSINESS SCHOOLS.

Students Advancing Rapidly—New Students May Enter Now.

Classes of the Moran Business School, Burgevin building, have been making excellent headway in all departments since the opening of the fall term. Contrary to the opinion prevailing in the minds of many, prospective students who were unable to enter in September may do so now without the slightest embarrassment. Ample accommodations are provided at both day and night sessions for all who desire to take up the work during the winter months.

On visiting the Moran School one finds a bright class of earnest young men and women training for business careers. Where could one find a spectacle more inspiring than that witnessed at the night sessions where a fine class, composed exclusively of efficient day workers, are devoting systematically and effectively three evenings each week to self-improvement and advancement, insuring for themselves a better place in the world—a bright future in business or in government service?

Prudential New Banquet.

A banquet was held at the Elks Club, Fair street, Saturday afternoon by the assistant superintendents and agents for the Prudential Insurance Company, Kingston district, of which John E. Mahar is the bustling superintendent. There were about thirty present and after the banquet there were addresses by Superintendent Mahar and others. These banquets are held from time to time by the Prudential happy family of the Kingston district.

A butter expert in an up-to-the-minute plant

The new Troco plant, just completed, is the latest, most up-to-date margarin plant that it is possible to design.

It is under the supervision of A. E. Hoffman, a famous butter expert, who for 30 years has made butter, judged butter and taught butter making in leading dairy schools.

Famous in the butter world

Mr. Hoffman was famous for the peculiarly sweet, delicate flavor of his butter. He puts this same sweet, delicate flavor into Troco. The white, nutritious coconut fat which replaces butter fat must meet an exacting laboratory test.

All milk used comes from selected herds and is twice pasteurized.

What you can't expect

Troco is the fancy brand of nut margarin, with quality standardized. You can count on fresh, appetizing deliciousness.

What you can't expect is price cutting to compete with other brands. Troco may always cost a few cents more.

Ask your dealer. If yours hasn't it in stock tell him to order it. All leading dealers should supply Troco.

The Columbia Grafonola is a beautiful instrument, pleasant to look at and delightful to own.

It is scientifically designed to reproduce from Columbia Records exactly the music the artists themselves produced on the original wax in the Columbia Laboratory.

Come in. See the perfect lines and rich finish of the Columbia Grafonola's cabinets. Let us demonstrate for you the exclusive Columbia Non Set Automatic Stop. Nothing to move or set or measure. Just start the Grafonola and it plays and stops itself. Give the Grafonola the "once over" today.

We have extended our offer on Grafonolas.

NO FIGHTS WEDNESDAY.
Dick Bell injured, and Coffey fight adjourned to December 15.

Dick Bell of Poughkeepsie last Saturday night at Madison Square Garden in New York city won the welterweight championship of the U.
S. navy, but in doing so was injured
so badly that his fight with Vince Coffey of this city for the welterweight championship of the Hudson river valley has been postponed until Wednesday evening, December 15, and there will be no fights staged this Wednesday. The entire card stated for this week will be held the following week.

Gus Joy of the Argonne Club has on exhibition in Poughkeepsie a solid gold watch to be presented to the winner of the Coffey-Bell fight. Engraved on the watch is the words,
"Welterweight Champion of Hudson Valley." Joe Coffey is on the same card to fight Oakley Keyes of New York city six rounds. The other six round out will be between Jimmy Roman, ex-amateur bantamweight champion, and Roy DePass of New York.

While Bell was injured in his Saturday night fight, making the postponement necessary, he will be in shape for the bout December 15. The fans who intended going to Poughkeepsie Wednesday should bear in mind the fact that the fights have been postponed one week.

A PERMANENT AFFAIR.
Harding and Coolidge Club Meeting in January.

The annual meeting of the Harding and Coolidge Club of Ulster county will be held in January, at a date to be fixed by the executive com-lic meetings throughout the county and by the individual work of the members of the club. It was the intention of the Harding and Coolidge Club when it was organized to effect a permanent organization and this intention will be fulfilled. Throughout the United States such clubs were organized during the campaign and have become permanent institutions.

An officer will be at the armory all day Tuesday for the purpose of approving applications for victory
